JUNIOR COLLEGE QUESTION IS NOW BEING DISCUSSED BY IMPROVEMENT CLUB

Officials and Members At Hayward Meet
Aug. 14

Explanation and discussion of the proposed plan for a Junior college is to be discussed at a meeting in Hayward of the Federated Improvements club of Alameda County Thursday night, August 14. Establishment of such a college was a move initiated in this region a year ago, and consistently considered since then. President T. G. Hodgkins announced the coming meeting of the club.

Facts and figures concerning this project, thought to be one of the most ambitious educational undertakings for this section in many years, will be laid before delegates and visitors by Frederick Foster, vice-principal of the Hayward Union high school and advocate of the institution, and E. W. Burr, member of the high school board of trustees.

According to Hodgkins, the federation advocated the college when it was first proposed and will renew its support again. Members and officials, however, desire a clearer understanding of costs and other incidentals.

A tentative proposal of college sponsors includes establishment of a central location in Southern Alameda County, with special attention paid to the Decoto section. Purchase of at least twenty-five acres of land for buildings and surrounding campus grounds will be necessary.

A thorough study of facts and figures has been conducted by Burr and Foster, which will be fully explained to federation leaders and members.

At one time a location near Niles was considered along with the proposed college, but this consideration was entirely dropped when cost of upkeep and running expenses was disclosed.

However, a college of this kind would be more centralized if it were near Decoto. The question is of great importance, and is believed to be a vital issue in the present local school plan.

GEORGE ROEDING ENTERTAINS CLUB MEMBERS AT LUNCH

Fifty People Visit Well Known Local
Nursery

Members of the Hayward Garden club were guests at the California Nursery last week and were entertained by George Roeding and his assistants. Luncheon was served in a small enclosed garden and following it J. A. McDonald and J. V. Mann showed the guests various propagating houses, which cover hundreds of acres of land. They explained and outlined the origin, habitat, propagation and care of rare shrubs and roses in a most interesting manner.

An old adobe building, dating back to mission padres, and used for storing wool and grain was one point of interest for the visitors. A great trumpet vine covered with large carmine and gold flowers gained much attention for it was a lovely specimen.

At the close of afternoon Mrs. Florence Elchwaldt, honorary president and founder of the club, thanked Mr. Roeding and assistants for their hospitality. Mrs. Walter Stebbins was chairman of the afternoon and nearly fifty club members attended the affair.

Tysonville Is Operated Under New Management

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Clements, formerly of Woodland, have taken over the management of Tysonville, on the Niles-Centerville highway, and will establish a permanent residence there.

A change of climate was necessary for reasons of health, and Tysonville was chosen as a satisfactory location. Mr. Clements was connected with the Union Oil company in Woodland for sixteen years. He will now operate the service station and store at his new business site.

Mrs. Manuel Garcia, of Niles, passed away Thursday, July 24, at a hospital in Paris, France, after an illness of a month. The body is being brought back to Niles for burial.

Mr. and Mrs. Garcia left Niles June 17 on a trip to Europe and they expected at the time to be gone several months, their plans being extensive. When half way to France on a steamer, Mrs. Garcia became ill and finally upon reaching Paris was taken to a hospital for an operation after which she died.

The deceased was fifty-five years of age and well known in this township and San Francisco, where she was born. She was a member of several local clubs and lodges and scores of friends mourn her untimely demise.

She is survived by a son, Merle Garcia, of Oakland, who is now on his way to New York to meet his father, Manuel Garcia who is returning by steamer with the remains.

Death is attributed to some serious systemic disorder, but as yet definite information of the cause is not known here.

FIRST DRUGGIST OF NILES PASSES AT HOME MONDAY

Merl B. Sneden Dies After Serious Illness of Many Years

Funeral services were held in Oakland Monday morning, July 28, for Merl B. Sneden, 61 years of age, who was for many years a resident of Niles and one of the early business men here. Death followed a lingering illness which caused him to retire from business several years ago.

The deceased owned and operated the first drug store in Niles and was socially prominent in this community. His place of business was first established in the Odd Fellows' building which has since been removed to make way for a modern building soon to be erected. After retiring Mr. Sneden and his wife continued to reside in Niles and at times he acted as substitute pharmacist for his successors. About two years ago his ill health necessitated his moving to a different locality so he and his wife made their home in a cottage owned by them in the Santa Cruz mountains near Los Gatos. At the time death overtook him they were living at 285 Hanover avenue, Oakland.

Sneden was a native of Vermont but had spent the greater part of his life in Alameda county. He is survived by his widow and one brother, Dr. Claude Sneden, of Los Angeles. Funeral services were conducted from the Grant D. Miller establishment under direction of the Masonic lodge of which he was a member for many years.

Newark Leader of Southern Alameda County Industries

Although Newark ranks third in population to the other seven communities of Washington township it is leading industrial city in Southern Alameda county and has a payroll that amounts to over a quarter of a million dollars annually.

Salt Works
There are over 10,000 acres of salt evaporation ponds and others being constructed. This places Newark among leading salt producing regions of the world. The quantity of salt taken from lower San Francisco Bay is said to exceed the amount taken from the Great Salt Lake district. Newark from an industrial standpoint has a decided advantage over Utah as brine taken from here is rich in other chemicals, including bromides, potash, lime and principal ingredients used in making ethyl gasoline and various bleaching compounds, value of which exceeds that of salt.

Chemical Plant
One of the chemical corporations has completed a million dollar plant and will be in the production field within a short time. More than a million dollars is being spent on the enlargement of a local substation by the Pacific Gas & Electric company. This plant transforms the current brought from the mountains and distributed throughout the Bay district.

Gordon W. Daniels Pays
$50 For Wild
Driving

GORDON W. Daniels, of San Jose, and George F. Waterman, of Oakland, were arraigned before Allen G. Norris, judge of the Centerville justice court, Tuesday, July 29, on charges of reckless driving and exceeding the speed limit.

Daniels was arrested in Centerville on July 20 by Traffic Officer George J. Barren, who stated that Daniels had been drinking and at the time of the arrest was driving recklessly.

Barren reported that in the case of Waterman the latter was arrested between Alvarado and Centerville after breaking the law under Motor Vehicles act by driving his car at sixty miles per hour.

After hearing the cases Judge Norris imposed a fine of $50 on Daniels and a fine of $10 on Waterman.

TRANSPORTATION COMPANY FILES NEW APPLICATION

An application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity has been filed with the state railroad commission by the Oakland and San Jose Transportation Company which is seeking permission to operate motor trucks on a regular freight schedule between Oakland and San Jose and through English, C. F.

A fleet of trucks has been operated by this company between the two cities named for several years but would establish branch routes which would serve all territory for one mile on either side of principal highways and county roads between Newark and Livermore.

Bieber—Laundry building will be erected here.

Railroads Extend
Extensive improvements are being made by the Southern Pacific railroad company on its local yards. Sufficient land is owned by it for a transcontinental freight terminal which is expected to be one of the important developments of the next few years.

If the Western Pacific-Great Northern combine is allowed to have entrance to San Francisco, Newark is regarded as the logical freight terminal and the local payroll is certain to have a large increase while the bridge across San Francisco Bay is under construction.

Other Enterprises
Another of Newark's business developments is the stove works, where a well known make is manufactured. A large portion of the annual payroll is attributed to this foundry.

Dairying is also being developed as an important industry of this region. Annual milk production value is in excess of $100,000. More than 7500 acres of land is devoted to production of alfalfa.

During the last year many new homes were constructed to provide living quarters for employees of local industrial plants who in the past were forced to live in adjoining communities. Newark is showing great progress and is becoming known as a community with a very promising future.

Niles Receiving National Publicity Through Year Book

California and Niles are receiving national publicity this week through the distribution of the fourth annual edition of the California Markets Survey and Newspaper Directory of the California Newspaper Publishers Association of which the Register is a member.

Official 1930 census figures, vital, manufacturing and retail statistics relating to Niles and its trading area are contained in the 138 pages of complete information regarding California.

An index in the front of the book lists every newspaper in California and gives available pertinent information concerning each. Following the index are arranged complete data on the more than 300 cities and towns represented by the membership of the California Newspaper Publishers Association.

"California, The Growing Market" is the theme of the book this year with the following preface: "California has been proven the fastest growing market in the United States by the official government census figures.

"California was the greatest gainer in population among the states of the Union for the decennial period from 1920 to 1930.

"California's percentage of increase was 44.6 as compared to the entire United States with 17.4 percent.

"As with the population figures, government officials have shown how the per capita buying power of the average California family is high above that of the average American family. And an added lure to the advertising dollar is the realization that California offers an advertising conscious audience unequalled in any similar market."

Distribution of this book is made to all the leading advertising agencies and manufacturers, as well as national advertisers throughout the country, according to John B. Long, general manager of the California Newspaper Publishers Association.

MINISTER RETURNS FROM VISIT IN MIDDLE WEST

Reverend and Mrs. Elmer C. Brinkmeyer returned last week from a vacation of a month spent in Kansas. The trip was made by motor and their destination was Newton and Wichita, where they visited friends and relatives. Mr. Brinkmeyer reported that they drove 2000 miles, averaging 600 miles per day. In all the trip east took three and a half days. He also stated that the weather was extremely warm in Kansas, and a great deal of rain needed for the crops.

They returned home in order that Mrs. Brinkmeyer might go to the Camp Fire Girls' camp in Big Basin, where several Niles girls are now staying. Mrs. J. E. Townsend, guardian of Tinaga group, is now at camp.

Business Ideals Maintained By Constructive Advertising

Not so many years ago, when advertising was still a new field, it was used by some manufacturers, producers and others as a means of selling things which lacked the essentials upon which substantial businesses are built. In other words, this advertising was used as a means of unloading "fly-by-night" articles upon the public.

Today however, things have changed, for American business has realized that, advertising though a capable aid in selling, cannot sustain these sales unless that which is offered for sale delivers a satisfactory service to the buyer. So the manufacturer of today appreciates that he must keep his products up to a standard, if he is to enjoy continued sales. Forced by competition, this effort on his part never flags, and he endeavors to produce better and better merchandise in order that his advertising may go on building a prosperous business for him. This stabilizing and standardizing of merchandise has made it possible for the buyer to purchase the same commodity time and time again, and yet be absolutely positive that he will obtain the same quality which he expects to receive. Thus we see the goods of consistent advertisers creating and developing a stronger and stronger consumer demand. The advertiser, appreciating what this means in good will and profits, does not permit his merchandise to deteriorate in quality, but strives to make it conform to a higher ideal, for he knows that his advertising has led the public to expect a definite degree of satisfaction from the article advertised, and it must fulfill the public's expectation.

No longer then is it necessary for the buyer to quaver under the old axiom of Roman institution which said, "let the buyer beware" for today the advertiser exposes the quality and service of what he manufactures to the gaze of a coldly calculating public through his advertising, and in order to maintain his position, he must maintain his standard of quality.

Volcanic Lure

The reason for the return of farmers to dangerous slopes of volcanoes is explained by Dr. Henry S. Washington of Carnegie Institute by the fact that the lava flows are the best vineyard soil on earth. Most of the best grapes are grown on lava soil in areas surrounding long extinct volcanoes and sometimes, as on Mount Etna, around mountains which occasionally grow violent.

JUSTICE OF PEACE

WASHINGTON TOWNSHIP

Vision of the "Last Comrade"

By HENRY W. COLBY
Revised by Sydney E. Ford, Ford Gardens, Bridgewater, Mass.

March your proudest, honored patriot, while your step is firm and strong; Shout your loudest, valiant soldier, as your voice peals out in song; Sound your glory with the echoes of the trumpet and the drum, That the story may be ringing through the centuries to come.

Loyal hearts are warmly throbbing to the music of your tramp; Memory starts the songs of legends of the bivouac and camp; Almost seems the scene repeated, were it not that while we gaze, Waking dreams of faltering footsteps cloud the light of other days.

Joy and pleasure wed with sadness in this springtime of the year, And a measure born of gladness kind of mingles with your tear. And you lighten sorrow's burden these sadly sacred hours, As you brighten with your tribute of the season's fairest flowers.

But the ages mock at memory, and the time is all too near; When the pages of your hero-life must dim and disappear. And your column, strong and stately though it marches forth today, Tells in solemn notes of warning that its strength must wear away.

Time is lending with stern usury the days that fly too fast; Backs are bending with a burden that must weight them down at last; Ranks are thinning while no fresh recruits can swell your gallant band; Death is winning slowly, surely, every fight with certain hand.

Have you never, valiant soldier, as you decked those graves in May, Thought that ever in the future there must come a fateful day, When some lonely, weary veteran, last survivor of his post, Must the only remnant linger of a vast and mighty host?

Have you pondered which among you last should lay his burden down? Have you wondered whose the weary brow to wear this martyr's crown, Who the tired, tottering one shall be, the last sad tale to tell, Uninspired by any sight or sound of those he loved so well?

As romance creates heroes, with imagination free, In my fancy I have pictured those this pilgrim-form might be; Lifelike, truthful, bright before me, as a portrait from the sun, Stands a youthful, boyish volunteer of Eighteen Sixty-One.

Just a lad when he enlisted, able scarce his gun to bear, But clad in knightly spirit, such as manliest heroes wear; And ye err, who in your careless thought speak slightly of youth, Which may stir with glowing ardor on the side of God and truth.

But the boys are boys no longer; youth is manhood—manhood, age. And the joys of youth have ripened to the wisdom of the sage, And though real yet life's battle, pressing constant, close and fast, Not less real is the soldier to his memories of the past.

How the faces of his comrades must to him grow doubly dear, As he traces by their footsteps, passing milestones, year by year, And what clustering emotions must be struggling in his soul, As the mustering-out commander drops another from the roll.

One step nearer to the last, he thinks—one nearer to the end; Each one dearer that is spared him now, and closer as a friend, And his aching heart rebels at every summons of the band. That is taking surely, one by one, the remnant of his band.

There must come a halt ere long, brave youth; ah! youth no longer now; "Nearer home" with every passing May, is traced upon thy brow, And each season that the march of Time is written on Life's page.

Favorite Recipes of a Famous Chef

As Told to Anne Baker
By FREDERIC FRANCOIS
GUILLOT
Chef, Hotel Astor, New York City

Chef Guillot

Mr. Guillot here presents two recipes for dishes which he considers especially delicious and appropriate for the family table.

Cucumber Aspic Salad—Peel one large cucumber and chop fine. Season with salt and pepper and let stand for one-half hour in four tablespoons warm vinegar. Add two table-spoons lemon juice and one-third cup sugar to one-fourth cup boiling water. Mix with liquid drained from cucumbers. Add two table-spoons gelatin that have been soaked for five minutes in one-half cup cold water. Add few drops green vegetable coloring. Cool and strain through cheesecloth over cucumber. Place in well-chilled mold. Keep in refrigerator until firm. Garnish with small balls of cream cheese. Serve on lettuce with French dressing.

Baked Tomatoes—Peel and cut in thick slices six firm, ripe tomatoes. Line bottom of casserole with layer of tomatoes. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Rub together four table-spoons butter, one teaspoon sugar, one cup bread crumbs. Spread the mixture thickly over tomatoes. Add second layer of tomatoes. Dot with butter, sprinkle with salt, pepper and dry bread crumbs, and bake for twenty minutes.

BUSINESS GOOD OVER STATE IS P. G. & E. CLAIM

Payrolls of Big Company Not Affected by Alleged Slump

Depression has not halted the building activities of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company. Its payroll is larger than it was a year ago. In May, the last month for which reports are available, the company's payroll was $2,124,000, or $520,000 more than for the same month in 1929. The number of employees was 14,242, an increase of 3,761 over May in 1929.

"The payroll of this company," said A. F. Hockenbeamer, president, "will run in excess of $25,000,000—in other words, more than $2,000,000 a month for every month in the year. We have not halted a single undertaking in our program of building for the future. We are going right along with our dam, power houses and ditches on our Salt Springs project until it is finished in 1931 or 1932. Work on our steam-electric plant in San Francisco is likewise moving ahead with full crews at work under orders to get the first of two largest steam turbines ordered for that station into operation this fall. Our natural gas program is being carried on as laid out last year and the year before and construction crews are now building into Napa Sonoma and Marin counties, which will be supplied with natural gas before the end of September. Extensions, gas and electric, are going ahead in every city and town where there is a demand for them.

"California is too large and too rich a state to be permanently affected by any slowing up of business. Depressions here can never be more than temporary. Business will turn upward as quickly as it turned downward and, when it turns upward, the Pacific Gas and Electric Company intends to be ready with additional facilities to take care of it. When the upswing comes there will be immediate demand for more power in shops and factories and for more natural gas as fuel in our industries. Our aim is to be prepared."

BOOTH CANNERY

The Booth Cannery is finishing a busy season in fruit and preparing for a large tomato pack. The firm has been obliged to enlarge the works owing to need of additional capacity. A new boiler is being installed of 250-horse power. There will be a smoke stack 125 feet high. A large amount of apricots and about the same amount of pears is canned each year. There is a large acreage in tomatoes contracted for locally.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Kirkish, of this city, and Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Kirkish, guests from Sunnyvale, enjoyed an outing at Neptune Beach Sunday.

GROWERS DRYING LARGE PORTION OF APRICOT CROP

Due to a short crop of apricots, and the canneries offering a low price for fruit, the majority of the crop raised in this region is being dried with the hope that there will be a heavy demand for it in the fall and winter.

Many growers are asking that seed be returned to them by drying concerns. Seed is bringing a higher price than is usual this year as there is a shortage reported in by-products. Almond extract, made from kernels, and a charcoal used in manufacturing gas masks and chemical filters made from shells, are the principal products derived from this commodity.

Poisonous Spider Has Been Found Within Pleasanton

"Black Widow" Warned Against; Call Doctor If Bitten

"Black Widow" has been found in Pleasanton!

Warning has been issued against the "Black Widow," a poisonous shiny black spider, whose bite is said to be as dangerous as that of a rattlesnake, by health authorities and physicians in Pleasanton.

For the information of those who do not know this pest, it has been pointed out that the spider frequents barns, sheds, trash piles and other out buildings. Local health authorities have received warnings from the state department of agriculture that the "Black Widow" is again on the warpath and that several cases have been reported.

Should one be bitten by this spider medical aid should be summoned at once, and pending the arrival of the doctor, the wound should be treated as though it was a rattlesnake bite—applying a tourniquet above the wound and bleeding induced.

The "Black Widow" is aggressive by nature and does not hesitate to attack—and attack without provocation. Destruction of all nests of spiders has been advised by health authorities. Kerosene or scalding water and lye should be used freely as this is said to be the only means of thoroughly eliminating the pest.

"SNOW HEATED"

The Antarctic has been conquered, and to Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd goes the praise of the scientific world for his brilliant success in the conquest. Above, with the coming of Spring, Lieutenant Thomas Mulroy supervises the job of digging one of the planes out of its "snow heated" hangar after a long, hard winter. The can is one of the expedition's Veedol motor oil containers, Veedol having been selected exclusively for lubrication of the motors of the plane that flew over the south pole, and in all other lubrication needs. Below, a striking study of Rear Admiral Byrd himself.

itate to attack—and attack without provocation. Destruction of all nests of spiders has been advised by health authorities. Kerosene or scalding water and lye should be used freely as this is said to be the only means of thoroughly eliminating the pest.

The "Black Widow," which is found throughout California and the west, is described as a shiny black spider from one to one and a quarter inches over all, with males somewhat smaller. Females show no distinguishing marks on their backs, but when turned over reveal a red figure resembling an hourglass in the center of the abdomen. Males sometimes have additional marks along the sides.

Do You Know Your Motor Law?

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of a series of articles summarizing the important provisions of the State Motor Vehicle Act. They are compiled by the legal department of the California State Automobile Association and published by The Township Register with the object of informing motorists in the interests of safety and reduction of the traffic death and injury list.

SPEEDING

The speed limits in this state are divided into classifications as follows:

1. When out upon the open highway, 40 miles per hour.
2. Within a residential district, 20 miles per hour.
3. Within a business district, 15 miles per hour.
4. When crossing a blind intersection, 15 miles per hour.
5. When passing a school when children are entering or leaving the grounds, 15 miles per hour.
6. When going around curves when the driver's view is obstructed for a distance of 200 feet ahead, 15 miles per hour.

7. When crossing any steam or electric railway track when the view along the same is obstructed 15 miles per hour.

Merely because these limits are established by law does not mean that it is always safe to drive an automobile at such speeds. The thought that the operator should always have in mind is not to drive at a speed greater than is safe and sane under the conditions that exist upon the highway at the time. In other words, it may be dangerous to drive at a speed of 20 miles an hour under certain conditions in a residential district.

Common sense and judgement should always dictate just how fast to drive in any particular locality, always having in mind not to exceed the limits above set forth. Very frequently the streets are wet or slippery or the grade is steep, which condition would make it most dangerous to drive at the speed limits established above. Such factors should always be taken into consideration by the operator in gauging his speed.

Stage Driver Is Cleared In Fatal Pleasanton Wreck

Manslaughter Charge Dismissed Against S. Alston on Tuesday

S. Alston, stage driver, was free of a charge of manslaughter this week following his hearing in the Pleasanton court Tuesday before Judge Wm. T. Davis.

Alston was the driver of the stage into which C. W. Topliff, of Oakland, drove his car, the death of his mother, Mrs. Louise Topliff, being the result. The accident occurred on the Livermore highway near the Coast Sand and Gravel Company's plant. The stage stopped for the railroad crossing and the Topliff car rammed into the rear of the bus.

The complaint was sworn to by Mrs. C. W. Topliff. A coroner's jury last week held the death to have been accidental.

Straightening Out Of Hopyard Road Curve Now Being Advocated

Collapse of Pleasanton Bridge Gives New Opening for Project

Straightening out of the Hopyard road at the second canal bridge near Pleasanton is being advocated by influential persons, now that the opportunity has come for so doing without any greatly added expense, it was learned this week following the collapse of the bridge last week.

For years the Hopyard road was in a bad state of repair, and with the dangerous turn at that bridge traffic into Pleasanton was never advised to follow that highway. This spring the road was improved and is now one of the finest pieces of paving in the county.

The bridge was left the same however, and the road was considered dangerous to strangers driving it for the first time, and the automobile association which marks the highways, refused to place direction signs from the main highway onto this road.

With the road now closed for repairs because of the bridge being out, every bit of pressure is being brought to bear upon the board of supervisors to straighten the highway at the bridge. The bridge caved in Sunday evening shortly after a speeding car is said to have crossed it. There was nothing on the structure at the time it gave way.

Pleasanton, situated as it is slightly off the main traveled highways to valley points, needs better highway markings on every one of its six roads leading into it. If the Hopyard road is made safer, it is said that another highway will be marked showing the way to Pleasanton.

Now is the time for concerted action, it has been pointed out, and if the residents of Pleasanton let Supervisor Ralph Richmond know their wishes in this matter Pleasanton will benefit greatly.

HOUSEWIVES TOLD BEST METHOD OF REFRIGERATION

A recent publication of the Bureau of Home Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture warns careful housewives that dry cold robs vegetables of precious vitamins, juices and flavors. Food properly refrigerated is an important matter to children in the hot days of summer.

Dr. Martha Manning, home refrigeration expert, gives a few pointers on how best to keep perishable foods:

"Immediately upon delivery, place milk, cream, butter and cottage cheese in the compartment just under the ice in a side-icing refrigerator or in the center of the top shelf of a top-icer, where the air, falling straight from the ice, is coldest. Dairy products are the most perishable of foods, keeping best at temperatures not over 45 degrees—temperatures easily held in the milk compartments of modern, well-constructed and well-iced refrigerators."

If you use the headlights of your car for camping lights, there is an unnecessary drain on the battery. Automobile accessory stores carry a trouble or camping light with long cable and clamps for the battery which uses much less energy and is more practical.

Does "Everybody" Know Your Store?

FREDERICK W. BRIDGES, advertising manager of the Hamilton (Bermuda) Royal Gazette & Colonist Daily, says:

That ADVERTISING PAYS YOU, MR. SMALL-TOWN-MERCHANT, in as great proportion as the national advertiser, if conducted in a rational and business-like manner. It is a too-common attitude on the part of the small town storekeeper that everybody knows his store, is familiar with what he sells, and that his regular customers will buy from him regardless of what the other man is offering. There seems, therefore, to be no need to advertise.

There Is Nothing "Regular" About Public's Buying

That this idea is based on a shaky foundation is obvious to the person who steps to think, for it predicates "regular customers," and experience in all towns, large and small, has proved over and over again that there is nothing regular about the buying public. All human beings are creatures of impulse to a greater or lesser degree, and any one thing, it may be better service, or even the fact that a competitor knows the value of a smile at the time, may change YOUR regular into HIS; in short, there is but a hair-line distinction between the status of "regular" and "casual" customer, and the conversion of the latter into the former depends almost entirely on the use of advertising.

What can you offer that is better than your competitor's? Is it Courtesy? Advertise it! Is it a lower price on a staple article, due to careful buying? Advertise it! Is it a feature line which you handle exclusively? Advertise it! Is your store handy to car-stops? Advertise it! Every day you have something which can beat, or is at least as good as the other fellow's, be it quality, price, service, courtesy, or what-have-you? Something has brought you your "regulars," but how many more can be brought in? Advertising will show you!

Your store is part of the community. How much of the community is part of your store? Unless there is a link between them your business may be average, but try the best link, advertising, and watch the results! Any special inducement you can offer is but the thin edge of the wedge, for every customer who comes in for your advertised line is a prospect for something you carry, and, once sold on your goods and your store will send his friends along.

BUT, IT ISN'T GOOD ENOUGH TO GET CUSTOMERS—YOU'VE GOT TO KEEP 'EM COMING, AND THE SUREST WAY IS TO ADVERTISE CONTINUOUSLY, and ADVERTISE INTELLIGENTLY.

"Metal Mike" will guide the Malolo on the round-the-Pacific Cruise of 24,000 miles this Autumn. The steering wheel of the Chevrolet is so designed that a touch of the finger controls the car, and a touch of the finger controls the huge ship, weighing thousands of tons.

IF ICHABOD CRANE HAD A FLASHLIGHT

By JOHN G. LONSDALE
President American Bankers Association

WE ALL remember the story of Ichabod Crane and the headless horseman. There was the dark form by the side of the road—thundering hoofs on the Sleepy Hollow highway—and Ichabod fleeing in confused terror before this terrible monster. If Ichabod had only known that his hobgoblin was an inventive rival disguised with a pumpkin head, he would have had a good laugh and gone on with the business of vanquishing his competitor.

John G. Lonsdale

What Ichabod really needed was a modern flashlight. Then he would have discovered the trickery at once. Many business men need the flashlight of analysis to uncover the hobgoblins in their business and then they might sit back and laugh at their rivals who hesitate to investigate and learn the truth.

At this time, when business and banking are making strenuous efforts to have a clear vision ahead, it is especially important that the power of research and analysis be employed to their fullest extent. When these twin brothers of good management have been pressed into service in all fields, I am confident we shall see a further lessening of periods of stress. However, I believe business in general has learned the valuable lesson that with prosperity that is not leavened with a little adversity would not seem basically safe or sound.

Bank Bandits Active

The greatest number of bandit raids on American banking ever recorded in the figures of the protective department of the American Bankers Association were reported during the six months ending last February. Bank members of the association reported for investigation 311 forgery cases, 107 holdup robberies, 16 burglaries, 2 sneak thefts and 8 mortgage swindles while non-member banks, numbering less than half the total enrolled in the association, suffered 36 hold-up robberies and 9 burglaries, non-members being burglarized or held up once for every 89 banks, as compared with once for every 164 member banks. The association detective agents caused the arrest of 143 of the 236 bank criminals apprehended during the period covered.

The association's report on these conditions urges support of the movement to provide city police departments with radio-equipped cruising automobiles which have proved particularly effective in Cleveland and Detroit in the broadcasting of alarms and the closing in on criminals immediately after or even in the midst of the perpetration of crimes. Last year the average time elapsed between the receipt of radio calls by these cars and the 1325 arrests which followed was one minute and forty-two seconds, the report says.

RESERVE SYSTEM'S DIVIDENDS ANALYZED

Bankers Find Increased Payments to Member Banks Would Be Small Inducement.

Various proposals that member banks in the Federal Reserve System should participate more largely in its net earnings through an increase in the dividend rate above the present fixed 6 per cent "would be a very small financial inducement" to them, it is declared in a recent study of this subject by the Economic Policy Commission of the American Bankers Association. This is shown, the commission says, by a theoretical forecast, on the basis of the past six years, of additional earnings that would be disbursed to member banks during the next six years under two plans introduced in bills before the United States Senate.

"The Fletcher bill provides that Federal Reserve Bank earnings, after present 6 per cent dividends to members and completion of a 100 per cent surplus, should all be distributed as extra dividends to the stockholder banks," the report says. "If the earnings of each Federal Reserve bank were distributed among its own members there would be no extra dividends in the Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Chicago and San Francisco districts during the next six years, but the other six Federal Reserve Banks would pay annual extras at the following rates: Richmond, 6.08 per cent; Atlanta, 4.09 per cent; St. Louis, 3.50 per cent; Minneapolis, 9.51 per cent; Kansas City, 5.43 per cent; Dallas, 4.33 per cent.

"If the earnings were pooled and paid out to all members in all districts each member would receive an average annual extra dividend of .78 per cent. Under this plan no franchise tax as now would be paid by the Federal Reserve Banks to the Federal Government.

Another Plan Analyzed
"The Glass bill would provide that, after present 6 per cent dividends, one-half the remainder should be paid to member banks as an extra dividend with the residue going to surplus and Federal Government as franchise tax. The average annual extras to members would be as follows: Boston District, 2.51 per cent; New York, .48 per cent; Philadelphia, 2.05 per cent; Cleveland, 2.09 per cent; Richmond, 3.26 per cent; Atlanta, 4.67 per cent; Chicago, 3.20 per cent; St. Louis, 2.02 per cent; Minneapolis, 4.75 per cent; Kansas City, 2.74 per cent; Dallas, 3.31 per cent; San Francisco, 1.87 per cent.

"If these extra funds were pooled the result would be an extra average annual dividend of 1.73 per cent for each member. Under this plan the system would still pay as now an annual franchise tax, amounting to $1,941,996 on the average."

By way of concrete instance, the report says, a member bank having capital and surplus of $200,000, therefore holding Federal Reserve Bank stock amounting to $6,000 under which it is receiving $360 under the present 6 per cent dividend arrangement, would with the addition of each 1 per cent to the dividend rate receive an additional income of $60 a year.

"If each member bank will figure out for itself the dollar-and-cents gain it would enjoy we are confident it will be agreed that the gains are small as against the economic disadvantages which can be pointed out," it concludes.

SEES HEAVY CLAIMS ON FUTURE BANKERS

American Bankers Association Official Declares That Banking Changes Creating Large Bank Systems Will Call for Broader Social Viewpoints.

Larger scale group or branch banking will inevitably bring a new era of banking organization and operations to the United States and bankers will have to develop "new conceptions, new administrative methods and new economic views," Rudolf S. Hecht, Chairman of the Economic Policy Commission of the American Bankers Association, recently told the members of the American Institute of Banking.

The institute is the educational section of the association and he emphasized the point that the new era in banking demanded "that we must step-up our education so that banking shall be fortified for new responsibilities."

What the Future Calls For
"We must broaden our social conception of banking," Mr. Hecht said. "Not only for the technical operations of the new banking must we fit ourselves, but both as individuals and an organized profession we must charge ourselves with serious consideration of the social problems that are involved. Already we hear murmurings and fears and doubts as to whether the changes that are coming about in banking in the extension of group and branch systems do not constitute the looming of a new financial menace, a monopolistic threat not only to the individual unit banker, but to the financial liberty of society in general. I am stating these things merely as facts that must be taken into consideration in our studies.

"Public opinion cannot be ignored by any business, least of all by banking, which is admittedly semi-public in character and is, therefore, subject to special supervision by the constituted authorities. If banking develops tendencies that give rise to public fears, we must so conduct ourselves as to reassure all doubts.

"For this is true,—that business succeeds only by serving society,—that no business can permanently prosper which does not both render service to the public and at the same time convince the public that it is rendering that service. Banking, therefore, must take cognizance of what the public is saying of this new era in its development.

"It must be part of the technique of modern banking administration, whatever form our enlarged institutions take, to avoid the creation of monopolies, or even the appearance of such a centralization of financial power as to be able to exercise an undue influence over public or private finance or other lines of business. The public's right to the safeguards of fair competition must be observed.

Must Preserve Individual Initiative
"It must also be an item of management that individual initiative and opportunity shall be maintained. If America has outstripped other nations in the distribution of the benefits of its progress, it is due to the fact that there are no barriers of social caste or business tradition against advancement for character, ability, and initiative. American business has learned that it serves itself best by encouraging by every practical means individual ambition and initiative, and hurts itself most by repressing or neglecting them. Competition for efficiency, both within an organization and between organizations, will prevent any institution from long enduring in which maintenance of opportunity and recognition of initiative are not controlling principles of management. As heads of the greatest of our financial and industrial institutions stand men who started from the humblest of beginnings. Through all the grades of executive authority and reward stand men in positions of keeping, generally speaking, with their individual merits. I, personally, see no reason for fearing that the enlarged banking organization which the future may hold would necessarily supply future bank employees with
